Maricopa Skill Center Provides Skills Based Training

Maricopa Skill Center (MSC) transforms potential in today's students into excellence in tomorrow's employees. Through hands-on training, designed to prepare students with the skills necessary to start a career, the school offers short-term certificate programs in Aesthetics, Auto Body, Computer Support, Construction, Cosmetology, Customer Service, Healthcare, Machining, Meat Cutting and Welding to name a few.

These programs prepare students to move seamlessly into the workplace, with some programs offering national and international certification opportunities. Industry partners participate in advisory boards for each certificate program to ensure our curriculum prepares students to meet industry standards.

MSC was founded in 1962 as part of the Phoenix Union High School District. In 1986, the Skill Center became a division of Maricopa Technical College, now GateWay Community College. In 1989, MSC moved to its current location at 1245 E. Buckeye Road, Phoenix.

To help meet needs in north Phoenix, in 2013, MSC opened a campus at 2931 W. Bell Road, which offers Aesthetics, Cosmetology and Massage Therapy, with plans to expand to include business and other programs.

It is a priority at MSC to assist students gain employment upon graduating. The Workforce Development Department works closely with students to prepare them for job searches, interviews and resume building. MSC and Goodwill of Central Arizona partnered in 2013 to open Goodwill Career Centers at both campuses. The career centers are open to the public, offering free assistance with jobs searches.

Start times for all programs vary throughout the year. Those interested in attending MSC or want to learn more are encouraged to participate in a campus tour. Tours are given at 3 p.m. on Mondays, and 9:30 a.m. on Fridays (Thursdays during the summer) at both locations.

PHOENIX--Girl Scouts - Arizona Cactus-Pine Council hosted a South Phoenix community conversation, on March 11, at the Roosevelt Elementary School District Wellness Center, entitled “The State of Girls: Unfinished Business, Are they Thriving or Surviving? The information presented was based on a report from the Girl Scout Research Institute—the center for original research and evaluation at Girl Scouts of the USA.

This is the first report to stake out key issues and major trends focused exclusively on girls’ healthy development in the U.S. today. The data presented was enhanced by the inclusion of information related to the local community, regarding socio-economic factors, educational attainment outcomes for girls living along the Baseline corridor, as well as community assets and indicators of community wellness within the South Phoenix area.

A cross-section of approximately 70 community and staff stakeholders were brought together to raise awareness, explore issues, find common ground, and to begin to discern how to take action on solutions that will help to increase possibilities for girls in the south Phoenix community and across Arizona.

There was also an expert panel, moderated by Yvonne Pastor, and comprised of the following community thought leaders—Stephanie Banda, Girl Scout Troop 5002; Leanne Murphy, Program Coordinator, GSACPC Social Justice Programs; Brad Snyder, Executive Director, The Dion Initiative for Child Well-Being and Bullying Prevention, ASU; January Contreras, CEO & Managing Attorney, ALWAYS, Arizona Legal Women and Youth Services; Sharese T. Willis, Ph. D., Leader, Girl Scout Troop 362; Raquel Gutierrez, Ph.D., GSACPC Board Member & Director of Strategic Learning & Practice, St. Luke’s Health Initiatives.

After the panel, those in attendance were given an opportunity to ask questions and provide comments on the discussion. The feedback and learning from the event will be used to build collaboration and partnership, increase volunteerism and to engage more girls in the opportunity to become Girl Scouts.

For additional information on how your daughter can become a Girl Scout, or to discuss ways to partner with Girl Scouts—Arizona Cactus-Pine Council, Inc, please contact Mary Mitchell, Senior Associate, Community Engagement at 602-452-7015 or at marymitchell@girlscoutsaz.org.
Healthy Neighborhoods

Dealing with the Vacant Property Problem
By Katelyn Parady, Volunteer Writer
katelyn.parady@asu.edu

How Vacant and Neglected Lots Hurt Neighborhoods.
Central City South residents know how hard it can be to live next to abandoned or problem properties. The National Vacant Properties Campaign says these properties:

- Hurt nearby property values. In Philadelphia, researchers have found properties near vacant and abandoned lots lose more than $7,000 in value.
- Attract crime. Police in Austin, Texas, receive more than three times the amount of phone calls about drugs from blocks with unsecured vacant buildings.
- Create public health problems. In Phoenix, blowing dust from vacant lots can hurt air quality. Vacancy increases fire risks. And issues like rat infestations and illegally dumped hazardous waste are dangerous and expensive for cities to fix.

What Communities Can Do?
Resolving vacancy and abandonment issues is hard. Laws in the U.S. are protective of property owners. The economic crisis has also led many cities to cut back on enforcement and inspection.

But there’s also hope. Across the country, communities are finding ways to turn property problems into opportunities for change.

- In Cleveland, community development groups have the power to help enforce city codes.
- San Diego hired a vacant lots coordinator to work with troubled property owners.
- In Detroit, grass-roots organizations now exist to provide financial assistance to communities that are maintaining vacant lots themselves.

How You Can Help Your Neighborhood?
Change begins with people who are willing to speak up about a problem. Here’s what you can do to combat property problems in your community.

- Learn how the City of Phoenix is transforming vacant property by visiting phxrenews.org. Then, talk to PRC about how you can draw attention and resources to these problems in Central City South. Don’t let your neighborhood be overlooked!
- Call Neighborhood Services at 602-534-444 to report blight. In Phoenix, code enforcement happens on a complaint-basis. If you don’t complain, it won’t get fixed.
- Visit the Center for Community Progress http://www.communityprogress.net to learn more about the vacant property problem and strategies for turning things around.

FAA Flight Path Changes

On Sept. 18, 2014 the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) made changes in flight paths to and from Phoenix Sky Harbor International Airport as part of NextGen, an FAA program that uses satellite-based navigation in order to increase efficiency, improve safety and reduce the environmental impact of aircraft. Since the new flight paths were implemented, Phoenix Sky Harbor and the FAA have received thousands of questions and complaints about the changes. The city of Phoenix continues to advocate on behalf of the community for relief from the impacts of these new flight paths.

Community members have many options for receiving updates on this issue:

- Visit the Airport’s webpage: skyharbor.com/flightpaths
- Follow Sky Harbor’s Facebook page: Facebook.com/PHXSkyHarbor
- Follow Sky Harbor on Twitter: Twitter.com/PHXSkyHarbor
- Sign up for nextdoor.com
- Subscribe to your City Council representative’s mailing list or newsletter through phoenix.gov

Summer Ideal Time To Prepare for Kindergarten Success

While most students think of summer as a break from learning, for young kids entering kindergarten, summer is the ideal time to instill the skills that will make the transition to school smoother.

Kindergarten has changed a lot since most of us started school. Today’s 5-year-olds are expected to arrive with basic academic and social skills so they are prepared on day one to start learning to read, write and do basic math. Here’s a sample from a list – taken from a national survey of kindergarten teachers a couple of years ago – of skills that can help ease the transition to kindergarten:

- Child pretends to read. Understands that words are read from left to right. Looks at pictures and tells a story.
- Recognizes own name and tries to write it.
- Counts to 10 and can count objects.
- Pays attention and follows simple directions.
- Can repeat sequences of numbers, sounds and parts of stories.
- Controls a pencil and crayon well. Cuts shapes and pastes them on paper.
- Recognizes authority. Shares with others. Works independently.

As parents, we can use fun, everyday activities to help our kids develop basic skills to build on and prepare them for kindergarten success. First Things First has tip sheets to help parents prepare their kids over the summer for their first day of school. Tips range from reading and playing every day and ensuring kids get all their check-ups to practicing new routines and reducing first day anxiety. These resources can be found at azftf.gov in the Parent Section under Early Education.

The #1 tip? Read, talk, sing and play with your kids!

Even if you don’t have kindergarteners this year, it’s never too early to start helping kids prepare. Children who have positive early childhood experiences tend to score higher on school readiness assessments and are more likely to do well in school and graduate.

By turning everyday moments into learning moments, we can send our children to school with the skills – and the love of learning – that will help them succeed in kindergarten and beyond! Rachel Egboro is a Community Outreach Coordinator of First Things First. She can be reached at regboro@azftf.gov. To learn more about First Things First, visit azftf.gov.

Participants enjoyed arts and crafts, a bike rodeo, live entertainment, music by DJ Tranzo and hosted by Raymond Buchanan. Volunteers from Tonto Street Church cooked and served lunch for everyone. Service providers brought information on local resources that could be accessed by our residents. Neighbors connected and reconnected. We laughed, danced, sang and had a great time!

On Saturday, March 28th the Silvestre Herrera School Parent Teacher Association sponsored the 2015 Festival. Some activities included getting hosed down with cool water by the Phoenix Fire Department, information tables such as the American Legion Post 41, cool sounds by DJ Tranzo and many games for the families who attended to enjoy.

A special guest was Feliciano Herrera Ordonez, nephew to Silvestre Herrera Congressional Medal of Honor Recipient and who the school was named after. Mr. Ordonez shared childhood stories of his uncle and encouraged the children to stay in school. Principal Kevin Sotomayor and Phoenix Elementary School District #1 Superintendent Dr. Myriam Roa were very excited about this community event.

Phoenix Revitalization Corporation was a proud sponsor and supporter of this event.
On Thursday, March 26\textsuperscript{th} the Capitol School K-Kids held their 2\textsuperscript{nd} “March Movement Madness” event at Capitol School located at 17\textsuperscript{th} Avenue and Van Buren Street. The event encourages physical activity through exercise stations and healthy food games run by the K-Kids, basketball drills, line dancing with music provided by DJ Tranzo, and much more! Participants brought cans of food that was donated to St. Mary’s Food Bank. Participants won raffle prizes donated from Positive Network Alliance and PRC. Many volunteers joined the K-Kids including members of the Brophy High School Key Club.
On Saturday, March 28th over 50 volunteer participants made up of local residents, employee and family members of APS and the Arizona Diamondbacks joined forces to contribute to community beautification at the New Homes Neighborhood Clean Up. The staging area was at Alkire Park located just south of Buckeye Road and 17th Avenue. We extend a special thank you to the City of Phoenix Parks and Recreation for your cooperation in permitting access to the park. Pastor Titus Lee from the Center of HOPE Church in the New Homes neighborhood provided opening words of thanks for volunteers.

Through hard work the volunteers filled four dumpsters with trash bags and bulk items. Many were thanked by local residents for their time. The Nuns from the Missions of Mercy told us that they feel safer with the lot across the street cleaned as it reduces illegal activity in the area. Volunteers focused on alleyways and vacant lots to the north and west of the park.

Volunteers were provided morning refreshments and lunch was provided by Sexton Services. People came from all over the valley including an Avondale student and her mom who live in El Mirage.

APS and the Arizona Diamondbacks Foundation are renovating the baseball field at Alkire Park. The youth are very excited as they watch the progress! The field will be dedicated on Thursday, April 9, 2015 at 10:00 am. The Arizona Diamondbacks Foundation, APS and City of Phoenix invite the community to attend the dedication.

It is amazing what we can do together. Thank you to all who helped in anyway. It all counts! The event was sponsored and facilitated by the Arizona Diamondbacks Foundation, Arizona Public Service, City of Phoenix Neighborhood Services Department and Phoenix Revitalization Corporation.
