America’s Friendliest Airport®
Promotes Healthy Living
Special to Central City South

There are many things that one can do to live a healthy lifestyle, such as eating healthy, being physically active and taking care of any medical issues or symptoms that may arise.

Fortunately, Phoenix Sky Harbor International Airport has many services and options that promote healthy living.

US CareWays Urgent Care located in Drugs & More in Terminal 4 provides high-quality, comprehensive medical care for non-life-threatening illnesses and injuries.

The urgent care facility is staffed with licensed nurse practitioners and physicians, supported by x-ray technicians and medical assistants.

It is open daily to treat patients over the age of 6 months who need urgent care services such as x-rays and lab testing, seasonal flu shots, occupational medicine and more. They can also treat a number of ailments, including earaches, headaches and migraines, sinus infections and sprains.

US Careways accepts most major insurance, but they offer affordable pricing options for individuals lacking health insurance.

As for eating healthy, Sky Harbor has a variety of healthy dining options. Many airport restaurants offer gluten-free, vegetarian and vegan options.

If you’re in the mood for salads, there are endless choices. You can try the Brussels Sprout Salad at Chelsea's Kitchen, the famous Stetson Salad at Cowboy Ciao, or many special salad or bowl options at the Original Chop Shop. La Grande Orange offers tasty vegan and vegetarian choices, such as a Shredded Kale and Quinoa Salad and Spicy Chickpea Lettuce Wraps. These are just a few of the many choices available to travelers.

And if you’re looking for a little exercise between flights or before your flight, you can walk the Sky Harbor Fitness Trail. The trail is slightly more than 1 mile from Gate A30 to Gate D8, and participants can enjoy views of area mountains, parks and the downtown Phoenix Sky Line, among other things.
